

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I recommend Montana Skies for your consideration as artists for your concert series or special event. Jennifer and Jonathan Adams' talent and passion for their unique musical collaboration is evident in their high energy and artistically flawless performances.

I produce a monthly radio and television live concert series program, RadioLive, which features musicians performing in the round before a live audience of about 350 folks. While normally an appreciative crowd, I have seldom witnessed the enthusiasm that the Montana Skies performance generated. Their first piece elicited a standing ovation, one of many throughout the evening. Their virtuosity left the audience exhilarated and wanting more.

I look forward to many return engagements and assure you that working with Jennifer and Jonathan will prove to be a memorable experience and a successful event for you. If you have any questions about my experience with Montana Skies, feel free to contact me at pat@wuwf.org.

Sincerely,

Pat Crawford
